

VOL. LXIII, NO. 60. PRICE THREE CENTS.

THE CARRINGTON PUBLISHING CO.

HAS SUFFERED GREAT PAIN.

NO ONE IS ALLOWED TO SEE EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON.

His Condition, Though, Was Somewhat Improved Last Night From What It Was on Saturday. The Physician Made Several Visits—He May Be Able to Leave His Room in a Few Days.

Indianapolis, March 10.—General Harrison's condition was somewhat improved to-day, though he suffered considerably from pains in the chest and head. He was stronger, but the gain was slight, being retarded by the low fever, which is one of the grip symptoms. During the day he suffered from pleuritis pains, which occurred at short intervals.

There has been little relief from his cold and the grip symptoms have been almost as pronounced as on yesterday, being attended by a susceptibility to chilly sensations, whenever changing his position in bed. His cough troubled him to-day and despite the remedies given it has been impossible to make any marked change in its violence. The attending physician does not think that the left lung is as much congested as it was yesterday.

As usual with the grip the sick man's head was affected quite seriously, but the pain was less severe to-day. Dr. Jamieson made several visits to the patient to-day and while giving out reports that are more favorable than those of yesterday it is quite evident from his manner that he regards it as necessary to give the ex-president the closest attention. He has prohibited all study and does not even allow the patient to indulge in the lightest reading.

Mrs. McKee reached her father's bedside at a late hour last night and has been constantly with him to-day. Friends are not admitted to General Harrison's room and positive orders have been issued to keep him quiet and free from intrusion.

Dr. Jamieson said that after visiting him this evening that if he continued to improve he might be able to leave his room within a few days, possibly within a week, but care must be exercised to prevent a relapse and especially to prevent additional cold.

ON A GRAND SCALE.

Preparations Made for the North Sea and Baltic Canal.

Berlin, March 10.—The preparations for the opening of the North Sea and Baltic Canal are on a grand scale. The activity all along the line from Kiel to the North Sea shows that the emperor intends to celebrate the occasion with a series of splendid fetes.

The emperor is superintending personally most of the arrangements, which are still incomplete. The climax of the celebration will be the reception of the emperor with a squadron at Kiel on June 20. The welcoming fleet will include war vessels representing all the great navies of the world, all the excursion steamers of the near-by ports and a host of yachts from the whole North German coast. The Kiel authorities are planning anchorage for fifteen large vessels. Although the Chauvinist section of the French press is ready with prophecies of a hitch in the arrangements owing to international jealousy, the officials in charge at Kiel fear nothing of the sort.

The utmost care has been taken to observe every minute detail of etiquette and courtesy. The intention is to make the naval parade a harmonious and imposing spectacle, accessible to every country taking part in it. The emperor is receiving daily clippings from the Paris journals which are devoting space to the Kiel ceremonies.

His purpose is to get a view of the matter and then lay his plans so as to spare the sensitive spots.

Pretty Girl Disappears.

Hartford, March 10.—Miss Annie Crothers, a bright and attractive girl eighteen years of age, and who has been a teacher in the Sunday school of the St. James' Episcopal church in this city, has disappeared from her home. She left a note for her parents in which she stated that she would not be heard from again. She was employed as a bookkeeper in the market of C. M. Shippey on Ribany avenue. She was heard from a few days ago in Providence, R. I., and later in Worcester. Her late employer is now missing and it is suspected that the couple are living together. Shippey recently asked his wife to obtain a divorce from him and he would give her $500. She would not do so, but she has now decided to apply for a decree from her husband.

WILL BE TWO PLANS.

They Will Be Submitted at the Reading Meeting To-day.

Philadelphia, March 10.—The committee of first mortgage bondholders of the Philadelphia, Reading and New England railroad, of which George Fletcher is chairman, will at to-morrow's meeting of bondholders here submit for consideration two plans for the betterment of the company's present condition. The first plan provides that the committee be empowered on behalf of depositing security holders to agree with the Reading railroad, the guarantor of the principal and interest of the bonds within six months, for an adjustment of the overdue interest and payment of the floating debt.

The second plan provides for the sale of the property and franchises under foreclosure, and the organization of a new company to take the property. Under the reorganization it is proposed to create and issue first mortgage fifty year gold bonds, secured upon the whole property of the company to the amount of $7,250,000.

ORIZABA WAKES UP.

An Ancient Volcano in a State of Most Violent Eruption.

St. Louis, March 10.—A special from Cordoba, state of Vera Cruz, Mex., says: The peak of Orizaba, an ancient volcano, is in a state of eruption. The signs of disturbance began to manifest themselves last Sunday night, and have increased in force constantly since then. It is now vomiting poisonous gases and thick volumes of smoke are emitted from one hundred apertures. The earth for one hundred miles around is shaken periodically with subterranean vibrations. The governor of the state of Vera Cruz will shortly make a commission of scientists to make an investigation into the eruption, and to make recommendations looking to the protection of the inhabitants of the neighborhood.

The present eruption is in the heart of the best improved coffee districts in Mexico, where are located many Americans. Masses are being said in all the churches of the locality to ward off the impending danger.

Gambling Rooms Raided.

Bridgeport, March 10.—A squad of police this afternoon raided Frank Franden's gambling rooms on Fairfield avenue and captured eight men, a poker outfit, liquors, etc. This was the first raid that has been made since the law and order agitation began. The keeper and frequenters of the place were held under heavy bonds.

Died From Exposure.

Topsfield, Mass., March 10.—Lawrence Duffy, a salesman, who disappeared from home last Thursday, was found dead in Topsfield to-day. He was slightly demented. He was seen here on Thursday. Death resulted from exposure.

On Account of Scarlet Fever.

Thomaston, March 10.—In all the churches here to-day the pastors announced that the Sunday schools would be closed in accordance with the orders of the health officer, as a precautionary measure taken against the spread of the scarlet fever in the town. The public schools have been closed for a week, and the Sabbath schools will also remain closed until the fever has disappeared.

Law and Order.

Putnam, March 10.—A local organization of the Law and Order league was effected here to-day. A public meeting was held in Thayer's hall and about one hundred citizens of the place attended. The league intends to make raids and do the work usually performed by the police. A committee of six members has been appointed for that purpose.

Residence Destroyed.

Norfolk, March 10.—The residence of H. H. Hurd at Highland Lake was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The house was not occupied and the flames were not discovered until they had got good headway. The local home companies were called out, but the efforts of the firemen were of no avail and the building was burned to the ground. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin. The loss is estimated at $12,000, with $450 insurance.

One Soldier Killed.

Madrid, March 10.—The Imperialist has this dispatch dated at Havana to-day: On the 7th two infantry regiments attacked the insurgents at Lost Negroes, near Baïre. One soldier was killed and seven wounded. The loss of the insurgents is not known. The brothers Sartorius and Emeline Vasquez have submitted to the authorities at Solrui. The other insurgent leaders, Joaquin Pedros and Charles Aguirre have given themselves up at Colon.

Both Received Passports.

Paris, March 10.—The government has instructed the commander of the cruiser Roland, stationed in Guiana waters, to proceed at once to Lagayra, Venezuela, and to place his vessel at the disposal of the Marquis of Ripert Monclar, the French minister, who last week received his passports from President Crespo. Dr. J. G. Fortoul, the Venezuelan representative in Paris, has received his passports.

Gaining in Strength.

London, March 10.—Lord Rosebery is gaining in strength. He drove out in a closed carriage to-day.

Steel Mill to Resume.

Bethlehem, Pa., March 10.—The largest steel mill of the Bethlehem company will resume to-morrow on a twelve thousand ton order for a Georgia railroad. Fifteen hundred idle workmen will be given employment.

Death Rate Increases.

Berlin, March 10.—The death rate has been raised rapidly in the last week by the epidemic of influenza throughout the empire. Hamburg has suffered most severely. The Princess of Saxe-Meiningen, Emperor William's sister, is just recovering from a bad attack.

Strikers Will Return to Work.

Haverhill, Mass., March 10.—The striking shoemakers held a meeting in Lafayette hall this afternoon and voted 236 to 194 to declare the strike off and return to work to-morrow morning. The meeting was attended by both men and women operatives.

Heavy Loss by Fire.

Cortlandt, N. Y., March 10.—The factory of the Cortlandt Cart and Carriage company, the livery stable of C. B. Peck, the blacksmith shops of John Hodgson and the carriage of A. C. Deussenberg were burned this morning. Loss $63,000. Partially insured.

THE ECLIPSE OF THE MOON.

THE OBSERVATIONS AT THE YALE OBSERVATORY.

Everything was peculiarly favorable in the evening, but the clouds frustrated the astronomers' hopes. Yale's astronomers were very wide awake last night over the moon's eclipse. Every necessary preparation for taking full and complete cognizance of the event was made. The night promised to be very favorable for the work; the air being clear with the skies comparatively free from clouds. The moon shone with full brilliancy, and it shone at its best up to about 9 p. m. when the first faint trace of shadow across the lower edge of its disc appeared. All over the city people were alert viewing the eclipse from doorways and windows. The Yale astronomers, Dr. Elkins and his assistants, Mr. Chase, were in high spirits, the circumstances at the start last night being unusually favorable for taking the observations sought, but their hopes were dampened a little later owing to the frequent intervention of clouds, which were light and fleecy, but all the same were exceedingly exasperating, as they shut off the taking of various observations requisite for obtaining the decided result. The astronomers hoped to obtain measurements of the moon's diameters in various directions, the object being to ascertain if there is any difference between the polar and the equatorial diameters of this luminary. The astronomers secured several measurements determining the polar diameter but the clouds were too lively and frisky for the full success of the work and the equatorial diameter could not be obtained. The moon entered the earth's shadow at 8:54 and the eclipse became total at 9:52, ending at 12:24. Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

Soon after the moon entered the earth's shadow, the clouds began their appearance over the moon's face, thus frustrating the astronomers' hopes, and it could not be determined whether the moon is an oblate spheroid or not. But Dr. Elkins says there will be an entire total eclipse of the moon visible in these parts next September.

LEAD A DOUBLE LIFE.

A Presbyterian Minister Visited Questionable Resorts.

Philadelphia, March 10.—Rev. A. G. Macauley, for forty-two years pastor of the Union Tabernacle Presbyterian church in this city, has been adjudged guilty of conduct unbecoming a Christian by a judicial commission of the Presbyterian church, and the verdict will be presented to the presbytery on Monday.

Dr. Macauley is about seventy-five years of age. For forty-three years he had posed as a model Christian and expounder of the gospel. His long service had won the respect and admiration of the men and women who had grown up from childhood in the church and Sunday school.

Over a year ago ugly rumors regarding his conduct reached the ears of the elders of the church. It is said certain members of the congregation shadowed their pastor upon the occasion of his visits to questionable localities and sufficient was learned to confirm the unpleasant suspicions. The elders of the church requested Dr. Macauley to appear before them. He ignored the summons and afterwards resigned.

Charges were then formulated and presented to the presbytery, and a committee was appointed to try Dr. Macauley. The general accusation was "conduct unbecoming a Christian, but there were at least a dozen specifications, all of which it is claimed, have been sustained by the evidence presented. It is said in the testimony that the doctor had been leading a double life for nine or ten years. Upon the occasion of his visits to resorts of unsavory character he usually wore clothing that was not in keeping with his position as a minister of the gospel. It was shown that he had made one place of questionable repute a rendezvous for five years and was familiarly known in resorts that men of known sporting proclivities would hesitate to enter.

Was Suffocated, by Gas.

Providence, March 10.—Lewis McCann, aged twenty-two, was found dead, bed at his boarding house on Vinton street this morning, suffocated by illuminating gas. Deceased had constructed a small gas heater in his bedroom, which was defective, allowing considerable gas to escape.

Fingerprints Solved.

Creston, Ia., March 10.—The town of Creston, six miles from here, is much distressed over the suicide of David Blosser, an influential citizen. The Creston National bank became aware yesterday that it had received collateral from Blosser that was forged. It is estimated that Blosser's forgeries will reach $10,000. Besides this he had borrowed large sums from wealthy citizens on his own notes. These amounts probably to $15,000. When an official went to arrest him Blosser endeavored to evade him and falling drew a revolver and shot himself.

He Fractured His Skull.

Lowell, Mass., March 10.—A traveling compositor from New York named Herborn while on a spree fell down stairs at his boarding house this morning and fractured his skull. He was taken to St. John's hospital, where he died at 10:25 to-night without recovering consciousness.

Knocked From His Train.

Springfield, Mass., March 10.—Francis P. Murphy, aged thirty-eight, a freight brakeman on the B. & R. road, was knocked down from the train this morning at Warren by striking against an overhanging bridge and received injuries from which he died in the evening.

Body of Unknown Man Found.

Boston, March 10.—About 5:30 this evening the body of an unknown man was found in the water at Charlesbank. The dead man was apparently twenty-five years old, five feet seven inches in height, 150 pounds in weight, of medium complexion, smooth face, dark hair and was dressed in a dark suit, blue flannel shirt and lace shoes. There were no papers about the body.

DENOUNCED THEIR PASTOR.

An Indignant Meeting of Church Members Held in Worcester.

Worcester, March 10.—A few days since the papers announced plans of Rev. Joseph Brouillet, pastor of the Church of Notre Dame des Canadiens, for the selling of the church property on Park street within a short distance from Main street and the purchase of what is known as the Fox mill property at the lower end of Green street, nearly three-quarters of a mile from the center of the city. The estate on Green street is much larger than the property which is now in possession of the church and is nearer the center of the French population, which is what is called the island district.

But the parishioners do not take kindly to the change. With the exception of a few they knew nothing about the proposed changes until they read of them in the papers, and some of the most influential men among them were in the list of those who had not been consulted. One of the plans of the pastor is the sale of the present church for the sum of $100,000 to one of the most prominent real estate owners in the city. The property is considered by the parishioners to be worth a great deal more than that sum.

An indignation meeting was held in the hall of the oldest French society to-day. There were about 300 present. They denounced the pastor for his action and drew up a set of resolutions against the proposed change of location. A committee was appointed to carry the resolutions to Bishop Thomas P. Beaven, D. D. of Springfield.

WERE GROUND TO PIECES.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT NEAR THE FERRY STREET BRIDGE.

Two Men Struck by a Fast Freight Early Yesterday Morning—Supposed to be Walter Boyle and John Hayes of Boston—Camp's Story of the Accident.

The mangled remains of the two men who were killed near the Ferry street bridge on the Consolidated railroad early yesterday morning are still at Lewis & Maycock's awaiting complete identification. Medical Examiner White has made a partial investigation into the circumstances and has practically decided that the two men are Walter Boyle and John T. Hayes, both of Boston, Mass.

William Dalley and Thomas Fagan, two switchmen who are employed at the freight yard of the Consolidated railroad, were walking along the tracks near the Ferry street bridge shortly after midnight, when they saw two mangled bodies. Both were frightfully mangled, one was headless and as Dr. White says, almost literally chopped to pieces. About fifty yards further down the tracks was found the head with the scalp almost torn off.

The story of the accident as told by Charles A. Camp, one of the survivors, who after the accident went to police headquarters about 3 o'clock yesterday morning and told his story, is substantially as follows: "I got out of jail in New London about 1 o'clock Saturday morning and shortly afterward met three other men there. One of them, who said his name was Smith and that he was a carpenter, had $1 with him. We all spent a portion of the day in drinking and at night caught the freight train which is due in this city about 11 o'clock. I lay down in a box car and went to sleep. When I woke up the other three men were gone, as was also my overcoat. I got up and found that I was at Cedar Hill. The man I saw of two of the men who were with me when I saw these mangled remains on the tracks. I do not know what became of the third man, but am sure that the two men who were killed are those who were with me."

Camp is a sailor and ran away from home when he was about ten years old. His parents live in Milford, this state. After running away from home he followed the sea in the capacity of sailor and has also tramped around the country. After the accident he was found at the Union depot by Officer Langan and taken to police headquarters, where he was detained until after he had been examined yesterday by Medical Examiner White.

It is supposed that the other three men left the train at Cedar Hill and started to walk to this city. While walking along the tracks two of them were struck by the fast freight from Springfield due in this city at 11:20 o'clock and were crushed to pieces. The remains were picked up, placed in a box car and taken to the Union station, from whence they were removed to Lewis & Maycock's. Medical Examiner White was notified of the accident and immediately made an investigation and gave permission for the bodies to be removed. Yesterday he made a thorough examination of the remains and as a result of his efforts is satisfied that the men were Walter Boyle and John T. Hayes.

One of the victims of the accident is about twenty years old, has a slight tan on his face, and was about 5 feet 7 inches in height. In his pockets were found three letters addressed to Walter Boyle, Boston, Mass., and were from his sweetheart, Sadie McNeil of Iona, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia. From the appearance of his hands Dr. White is of the opinion that he was a shoemaker. He was out in two in the middle of the upper portion of his face entirely knocked off down to his chin, his brain entirely gone and scattered along the tracks, and his body ground almost to pieces. He was dressed in dark clothes and wore shoe eleven and a half inches long.

In the pockets of the other man, who was known to Camp as Smith, was found a bit of paper in which was written "John T. Hayes, 1225 Washington street." He was about twenty-five years old, 5 feet 5 inches in height, wore a shoe ten and three-quarters inches in length, and was dressed in dark corduroy trousers, black diagonal cutaway coat and vest, and light gray overcoat of excellent material. Beyond these nothing was found in the pockets of either man.

Medical Examiner White has written to the Washington street address, Boston, in the hope of securing further light upon the subject. He has also reported the case to Coroner Mix and an inquest will be commenced to-day, at which Camp will be the principal witness. In the meantime the remains will be kept at Lewis & Maycock's pending further developments.

New London, March 10.—The man who was in company with the two men who were killed at the Air Line junction at New Haven last night and whom it was said was James Smith, a carpenter, is believed here to be Charles A. Camp, a brother of the man who afterwards called at the police office in New Haven after the accident and gave his name as Walter Camp.

A prisoner who was registered at the county jail here as Foley was released after serving a short term on Saturday. Jailer Brown said to-night that the prisoner known as Foley had written letters to Walter A. Camp of New Milford, whom he said was a brother. "Foley" signed his letters Charles A. Camp. Nothing is known here of the other men who left this city on the freight and were killed at New Haven.

Town Draped in Black.

Alexandria, March 10.—The body of Ishmail Pasha, once khedive, arrived here to-day. The town was draped in black. The burial will take place in Cairo on Tuesday, after funeral ceremonies of unusual pomp.

ARMENIAN TROUBLES.

Memorial Address to the Sultan Has Been Returned.

London, March 10.—The Daily Graphic has this dispatch from Constantinople: Munir Bey, the imperial secretary, has returned to the Armenian patriarch the memorial recently addressed by him to the sultan regarding the condition of the Armenians in the empire. He requested the patriarch to adopt a more moderate tone and mention in the memorial the sultan's clemency and sense of justice. The council decided not to modify the memorial, but to return it to Munir Bey in its original form.

London, March 10.—The Daily Telegraph has a dispatch telegraphed from Kars yesterday saying that a deputation of the survivors of the Sassoon massacres have appeared before the commission of inquiry and have narrated the whole story of the butchery. They presented a written statement, of which the Telegraph will print a copy. The statement mentions that the cross and a Bible were hung at the feet of the Armenian priest, who was ordered to trample on them. He refused, and thereupon the Turkish soldiers gouged his eyes and flung him into a pit with others who were dying. Of the 300 persons who were taken at the same time with the priest, only one, a merchant, escaped. He saved himself in an almost miraculous manner. The correspondent says that the statement has impressed the delegates powerfully, but does not mention the day on which it was presented.

Another dispatch from Kars gives the testimony of Kurds who saw Turkish soldiers take children by the feet and dash them against stones. "A Turkish sergeant," says the dispatch, bound an old Armenian head downward to some branches and slowly cut his throat, with an axe. The same Kurd saw the same soldiers take pregnant women and offer bets on the sex of the children. The women were then cut up.

The Telegraph will say that it has received other details too horrible to print. A third dispatch from Kars mentions forty-one villages which Turkish soldiers have burned, but does not give dates. These fires have been recorded in the evidence before the commission. The Telegraph will not print the dates on which the dispatches mentioned above were sent from Moosh.

Much Damage by a Gale.

Madrid, March 10.—Dispatches from Cadix say that a severe gale is sweeping the coast in the neighborhood of the port. Many lighters and dredges have gone adrift and foundered. Much other damage has been done, but the storm is still so fierce that it is impossible to obtain particulars.

Gentry Is Better.

Philadelphia, March 10.—J. B. Gentry, the actor, who shot dead Madge York four weeks ago to-night, and who has since been in the hospital suffering from injuries and exposure, has so far recovered that to-day he was removed to the county prison. Gentry is still so weak that he could not walk alone to the ambulance.

New Troops Will Start.

London, March 10.—The Times learns from Madrid that 3,000 more troops will start for Cuba on the 20th with six cruisers and nine gunboats.

Robert Dubois Is Dead.

New York, March 10.—Dr. Robert Ogden Dubois died here Saturday, aged thirty-six. The cause of death was heart disease. He was a son of the Rev. Dr. Henry Dubois of New Haven and was a maternal grandson of the late Chief Justice John Jay. He was a graduate of Yale Scientific school in 1883 and the School of Medicine, and began practice as a physician in this city. He was well known as a specialist in the disease of the throat.

To Succeed Mr. Peel.

London, March 10.—The News and the Daily Chronicle will urge to-morrow that Leonard Henry Courtney, deputy speaker of the house from 1880 to 1892, be chosen to succeed the retiring speaker, Mr. Peel. The Standard will suggest the name of Sir Matthew Ridley. Courtney is a liberal and Ridley is a conservative.

The State Music Teachers' Association. Those wishing to secure tickets for the Connecticut Music Teachers' association festival at the Hyperion May 20, 21, and 22, can do so by sending to Secretary Wilkins of Bridgeport or to the following consultants in this city: Frank E. Edgar, Popular street; Treat & Sherwin music store, E. E. Osgood, senior class, Yale; A. C. Jones, junior class, Yale; T. M. Brown, sophomore class, Yale; H. W. Fisher, freshman class, Yale; C. W. Danforth, James E. Clark, Henry Hartung, H. S. Bullard, E. W. Pease, G. C. Stock, F. A. Fonlu of 851 Chapel street, H. Cooke of 801 Chapel street; H. Hodgson, T. Peterson, C. H. Buttrick, Columbus avenue; E. A. Leopold, Allie Willie Williams, E. A. Kneek of 56 William street, James W. Seeley, Joseph H. Austin of Admiral street, Frank Langdale, Kate M. Preston.

Dances This Evening.

The annual private masquerade of the New Haven Turners will be held in their hall this evening. In former years this has been one of the most enjoyable balls of the season and it is expected that this year's will eclipse any former ball given by the society. The anniversary of the City Guard will be held in Arion hall this evening. The Hermann Sons' Maennerchor will give their annual ball in their hall, corner of George and Church streets, this evening. Shampashub council, Degree of Po-cachontas, will hold a masquerade ball in Golden Rule hall this evening.

Thought They Were Burglars.

Patrolmen John Allan and R. T. Moore were sent from police headquarters in response to a telephone call from a lady who lives in the house and who said that she thought there were burglars in the house. The officers searched the house diligently, but were unable to find any burglars.

DR. PARKHURST IN TROUBLE.

REGARDING REMARKS ON THE STANDING OF PRESBYTERY.

It Arose From the Proposed Sale of the Abandoned Church of the Sea and Land—Remarks the Doctor Made That Unbroke Ar. Taken to—More Trouble Pending.

New York, March 10.—Trouble has ever since his strictures, uttered in the pulpit and published in the Tribune, upon the financial integrity and business honor of the New York Presbytery, in relation to the sale of the abandoned church of Sea and Land. The particular remarks of the doctor at which umbrage was taken by the New York ministers is thus quoted: "You know that I have been extolled by my brethren of the New York Presbytery, but I tell you that I am not byster, but I tell you that I am prepared to fight Tammany wherever I find it—meaning that the ubiquitous influence of Tammany had asserted itself against him to such an extent as to cause the New York Presbytery to violate its solemn engagements in order to subvert the influence of Dr. Parkhurst and his church in Madison Square. Dr. Parkhurst may have an opportunity to explain this and other remarks in speaking to resolutions on the subject which will probably be offered when the Presbytery assembles to-morrow."

Dr. Parkhurst opposes the proposed sale of the church of Sea and Land. Services have been held in the abandoned church under the auspices of Dr. Parkhurst's church under an arrangement with the Presbytery. Dr. Parkhurst charged that the resolution to sell the church violates the agreement and contract of the Presbytery. It is claimed on behalf of the Presbytery, however, that the agreement was to give the use of the abandoned church to the Madison Square church for mission purposes for only one year, and that the year will expire in October next, until which time Dr. Parkhurst's tenancy will be allowed to continue.

The Presbytery, it is also said, has written assurances from the session of the Madison Square church that they are unwilling to continue the mission after October, 1895. Interest in the action which the Presbytery may take to-morrow is increased by the statement that a movement has been begun in the west to make Dr. Parkhurst the moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly, which meets in Pittsburgh next May.

LECTURES BY PROF. WHEELER.

His Subject to be "The Napoleonic Period From 1795 to 1815."

The ladies auxiliary committee of the New Haven Colony Historical society announce a course of six lectures to be given by Prof. Arthur M. Wheeler on "The Napoleonic Period from 1795 to 1815" at Colonial hall, the Historical society building, on Wednesday afternoon, March 13, 20, 27 and April 3, 10, 17, at 4 o'clock. The ladies of the committee are Mrs. Joseph B. Sargent, Mrs. James M. Hoppin, Mrs. Henry F. English, Mrs. Lynde Harrison, Mrs. Arthur M. Wheeler, Mrs. C. Berry Peets, Mrs. William H. Carmalt, Miss Martha D. Porter, Miss Fannie A. Bowers.

The tickets for the course are $2. They may be obtained from Miss Trowbridge at the Historical society building, or from any of the ladies of the committee. The course promises to be one of unusual attraction, and is especially timely in view of the interest in the career of Napoleon, which is at present being manifested in the literary world. The fact that so great an historical authority as Prof. Wheeler is to be the lecturer is a guarantee that the course will be of the highest order of excellence.

WEDDING LAST EVENING.

Of Frank Caplan and Miss Sarah Goldfarb; the wedding of Mr. Frank Caplan, the popular newsdealer, and Miss Sarah Goldfarb of New York, took place at the Temple street synagogue at 8 o'clock last evening. Rev. Mr. Friedberg officiating. The best man was J. Newman, the bridesmaids were Mrs. Louis Goldfarb and Miss Bertha Goldfarb of New York city.

The bride carried a handsome bouquet of bride's roses, the bridesmaids huge baskets of roses. The flower girls were Miss Esther Caplan, Miss Celia Caplan, Miss Millie Goldfarb, Miss Rosie Rosenchaw.

After the ceremony a reception was held in Germania hall. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. Caplan, Mrs. Louis Goldfarb, Mr. Nathan Goldfarb, Louis Goldfarb, Miss Ida Goldfarb, Miss Sada Lewis of New York, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Goldfarb of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Goldfield, Mr. and Mrs. Caplan, Mr. and Mrs. Bernstein, Mr. and Mrs. Rosin, Mr. Harris Caplan of Yonkers, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Greenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Flint, Mr. G. Gomper, Mr. Lawkey, Mr. Charles Brown, Mr. Louis Brody, Mr. Harris, Mr. Samuel Voloshin, Miss Sada Osgood, Mr. George Osgood, Mr